

Fur Couture Helps Children

Of Annie Malone Children & Family Service Center by Jahara N. Davis

On Saturday, November 8, Annie Malone Children and Family Service Center collaborated with the Fur and Leather Centre to host its first annual “Fur Fashion Extravaganza” to raise funds for the agency’s programs and services. The electrifying event held at the Golf Clubhouse in Forest Park, captured the audience all night long with its fabulous furs, flamboyant models, dynamic jazz band, 3 Central (formerly known as Solace), Hors D’oeuvres, sparkling champagne and exciting giveaways. Models of many generations graced the runway with one common goal: helping the children of Annie Malone. “I’m happy to see that Annie Malone is expanding its fundraising efforts because they do so much to help the community,” commented Keith Antone, Executive Director, Mentor of St. Louis, former radio-personality.

Niicy, Foxy 95.5 host, Bonita Cornute, Channel 2 News reporter, Keith Antone, Tammie Holland, Majic 104.9 host, Arika Parr, Clear Channel’s Director of Community Affairs and Producer.

Model Cara Carter on runway.

Fur Fashion Extravaganza Models backstage: Celisia Harris, Terrell Benne, Rachelle Allen

Annie Malone’s Resource Development Staff and a host of participating models.

Guests at the Fur Fashion Extravaganza.